The Pediatric Advanced Life Support "PALS" Instructor Course is an intensive one-day program designed for professionals who possess a strong knowledge of the PALS subjects. The program is designed to prepare you to teach the program, not to train you in the PALS information- participants must be familiar with every portion of the PALS program upon entering the course. The mandatory Core Instructor segment will cover teaching the adult learner, evaluation psychomotor skills, moving from lecture based to skills based learning, AHA course options, and remediation of adult learners. Participants will begin teaching in a role-playing capacity during the classroom segment of the course, so course participation is absolutely required!!

Requirements: (Must be submitted at time of registration)
